Melanchthon's Book
Enoch Arden Divorce
Lamb 75 Cents—Chop 90
By Arthur Brisbane

Enoch Arden, 1922, by Star Ock
As you looked over the news early this morning these announcements stopped you.
Many incendiary fires in Belfast, a dramatic bomb thrown into a crowd mauling three. That is relentless hatred, still surviving.

Coal mines are closing down, some are shut already, preparing for another big fight between employer and employee. These fights have gone on ever since one of our primitive ancestors discovered that he was smarter than the rest and put them to work for part of what they could produce—he supplying the brains.

Germany says she cannot raise and pay sixty thousand million additional marks to the Allies—even paper marks. First war, then conquest, then getting all you can out of the conquered. Then another war in which the conquered, made more efficient by poverty, got revenge. It was just a while longer, but still at ways.

The library of Princeton University now possesses a copy of Melanchthon's book, "The Ambassadors," with notes in the handwriting of the great Frenchman Rabelais.

The book is precious to those that collect books and rarely read them. It isn't worth as much as one single page of Rabelais' description of the law court with Grippenau and his friends. Or his description of the temple, and all that Rabelais wrote is perhaps not worth as much as Melanchthon's famous maxim, "In essentials—unity, in doubtful points liberty, in all things charity." Melanchthon was Luther's great friend, but that maxim of his made some of the zealous early Protestants angry. They wanted to rule on the doubtful point, prescribe the essentials, and occasionally substitute the stake for charity.

New York State has an Enoch Arden divorce bill, signed by Governor Miller yesterday. The husband or wife voluntarily not seen for five years, that is presumption of death. It dissolves the marriage, and permits remarriage without danger of a bigamy charge later. This will annoy those that object to divorce. It will probably increase divorces, perhaps decrease perjury in connection with divorce proceedings.

Men that raise cattle in Colorado think they ought to have assistance in the way of public loans. You agree when you read the experience of one sheep raiser. To raise money and satisfy the banks he sold all his lambs for seventy-five cents each—seventy-five cents for a whole lamb. He couldn't borrow any money out West, came to New York, and the day he got here paid ninety cents for one lamb each. That helps you to understand the Farm Bloc that is largely running the United States Senate and ought to run it.

Most of the news, read automatically, as we breathe, is unimportant. An exception is news from Oregon that tells of a new variety of wheat immune to rust, the plant disease that threatens the world's most important food plant. That news, and the other news that sapir can be used to protect seed potatoes from one of the most destructive diseases, will be important long after the Four-Power Treaty is forgotten—and everybody connected with it.

Mr. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, says Henry Ford in that way, when and where Ford handed back to the government twenty-nine million dollars in profits that he would not receive. Mr. Mellon says there is no Treasury record of any "returned profits" from Mr. Ford.

Mr. Ford might reply that he gave twenty-nine millions and more to the government when he refrained, during the war, from making money by producing munitions, charging all the traffic would bear, and a little more.

180 MORE VETS GIVEN JOBS BY CURLEY

Others Will Be Put to Work Soon on the Strandway and Bridge Repairs

More evidence of the wholehearted efforts Mayor James M. Curley is making to aid the jobless veterans in Boston was given today when he appointed 180 ex-servicemen to positions in the service of the city.

The men will go to work immediately in the Transit and Park Department. Those in the former division will be employed in the new subway terminal at Maverick square, Boston. In the Park Department the men will be put to work on various playgrounds.

Today's appointments make a total of 347 war veterans who have been given positions by Mayor Curley since February 3.

James M. Shaw, in charge of the Park Department's playground division, wrote to the Mayor today announcing that positions in his department were available at once for thirty war veterans.

These men, he said, would probably be kept at least until the first of September, and he added that only incidentally, weather permitting, work from making places for them earlier. Promises of more jobs for the ex-soldiers were made when the Mayor pointed out the need for them in the South Boston playground, Chelsea and Neponset bridges and other pending improvements.

Emma Goldman Describes the Inferno Created by the Russian Cheka Organization

"Informers, Like Scourge of Typhus, Infest the Very Air"

Max Goldman is writing the story of Russia from the inside, but he has just succeeded in getting out. After being locked in several other countries through the influence of the Bolsheviks, he has been permitted to enter Sweden. It will be recalled that the writer, who is known throughout the world as an anarchist, was deported to Russia together with Alexander Berkman by order of the Department of Labor in December, 1918.

Her narrative is one of deep interest. In breaking her silence of more than two years she reveals in the following articles her sharp-pointed and disillusioned view of the Russian experiment.

It is useless to say that in presenting the Russian American situation any responsibility for the views she expresses or for the conclusions she reaches, which are entirely personal to her, because of the importance of the subject of Russia and the necessity of presenting a view of the public in breaking her silence.

Max Goldman, New York writer from Russia, New York, N. Y. Stockholm, Sweden, March 29.

Mobilization of labor, in reality, is the world's greatest asset of Communism. "All must labor now in Soviet Russia. No more parasites!"

Though Lenin has never openly admitted this, the notion that many other similar ones have been used to rebuild Russia, is a mistake. I am not inclined to think that the notion that Communist labor has been used to rebuild Russia, is a mistake. I am not inclined to think that the notion that Communist labor has been used to rebuild Russia, is a mistake.

What it did accomplish was to make it an accompaniment to the work of the workers. It was to make it an accompaniment to the work of the workers. It was to make it an accompaniment to the work of the workers.

SEIZED EVERYTHING. A group of the opportunities of bringing something from the country, a whole book could be written on that alone. With the prohibition of trading came the "prohibitionary" system, the detention of goods and Chekists at every station to confiscate everything brought by private persons to the city.

The Chekists, after having the ration of obtaining a pass for travel, after days and weeks of expense, the Chekists, after the anxiety trip in filthy overcrowded cars, or on the roofs and platforms, would bring a load of flour of potatoes, they have it snatched from them by the Chekists.

In most cases the confiscated stuff was divided by the Chekists of the Communist state among themselves. The victims were fortunate indeed if they escaped further trouble. Often they would be thrown into jail for a few days. The number of persons who were apprehended was insignificant in comparison with the total of unfortunate humanity that filled the streets.

THE reader need not think that the Cheka has progressed since 1918. Last Summer, when the alleged plot of Professor Tagantsev was discovered in Petrograd, brutal beatings, torture by thirst and such other eminently "revolutionary" methods were employed. I have this information not from counter-revolutionaries, but from a very sincere Communist, who was one of the arrested, and who witnessed the results of Chekist methods. —From the article by Emma Goldman.

The Cheka was organized to oppose counter-revolution, but for every real conspiracy it has unearthed it has created nine, either of an imaginary nature or of its own making. It must be borne in mind that the main asset of the Cheka are its provocateurs and informers. Like the scourge of typhus they infest the very air of Russia. They stalk from house to house, they knock on doors, they enter, they search, they seize, they torture, they kill.

INFORMERS INFEST AIR. The Cheka was organized to oppose counter-revolution, but for every real conspiracy it has unearthed it has created nine, either of an imaginary nature or of its own making. It must be borne in mind that the main asset of the Cheka are its provocateurs and informers. Like the scourge of typhus they infest the very air of Russia. They stalk from house to house, they knock on doors, they enter, they search, they seize, they torture, they kill.

Every Communist by the dictum of his party, must at any time be ready to sacrifice his life. The majority of the Chekists are not, however, so ready to sacrifice their lives, and from the better high standards of the Chekists they are adept in the application of the Chekist methods.

THE western world has been led on glowing accounts of the people's tribunals at Moscow—the courts presided over by workers and peasants. There are no such courts within the domain of the Cheka. Its proceedings are secret. The so-called "tribunals" are in fact nothing more than a device for the Cheka to keep its hands clean.

THE Cheka is the most powerful organization in the world. It is the most powerful organization in the world. It is the most powerful organization in the world. It is the most powerful organization in the world.

Gradually it became the most powerful organization in the world. It is the most powerful organization in the world. It is the most powerful organization in the world. It is the most powerful organization in the world.

"Innocent Prisoners Tortured and Murdered in Hidden Dens"

added to the tragedy and grief of the Russian people. Like the Chekists of old, the Bolsheviks have been guilty of evil deeds from the public. But the truth will out sometime. They are already considerably incriminated in the horror within the walls of the Cheka—the hidden torturers, the victims, the widespread speculation that must not go for information to the opponents of the Bolshevik regime.

The Cheka itself occasionally furnishes much material. The weekly organ of the Cheka No. 2 contains an article on the "conviction" of a man. It is entitled "Enough Sentimentality" and says, among other things:

"The dealing with enemies of Soviet Russia it is necessary to use methods of torture to press confessions out of them, and then dispatch them to the other world."

The reader need not think that the Cheka has progressed since 1918. Last Summer, when the alleged plot of Professor Tagantsev was discovered in Petrograd, brutal beatings, torture by thirst and such other eminently "revolutionary" methods were employed. I have this information not from counter-revolutionaries, but from a very sincere Communist, who was one of the arrested, and who witnessed the results of Chekist methods. —From the article by Emma Goldman.

DOSE TO DEATH. A Communist against arrested counter-revolutionaries. How did he get there? Very simple. When the Cheka hears of it, it catches the accused as well as the guilty. In fact, mainly the innocent.

Yet such right persons were in the hands of the Cheka in January, 1921. In Petrograd in June, 1921, the Cheka arrested a man who was a socialist, a man who was a socialist, a man who was a socialist.

Time and again demands were made on the government to check the power of the Cheka. Such an attempt was made in the fall of 1920. Unhappily, the government failed to do so. The Cheka has been a source of trouble to the government since its creation.

INSULT FOLLOWS DEATH. And the relatives and friends of the victims of the Cheka are insulted in line on the Lyubimovskaya street where the Cheka is quartered, for days and weeks agonizingly waiting for word from their own. At last they are told that the man has been found dead. The police are told that the man has been found dead. The police are told that the man has been found dead.

It is the most powerful organization in the world. It is the most powerful organization in the world. It is the most powerful organization in the world. It is the most powerful organization in the world.

It is the most powerful organization in the world. It is the most powerful organization in the world. It is the most powerful organization in the world. It is the most powerful organization in the world.

Home-made Remedy Stops Coughs Quickly
The best cough medicine now available, a family remedy made at home, quickly stops coughs.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but it's powerful, results in least anything you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or croup within 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children love it—and it is pure and good.

Four 2½ ounces of Pine in a pint bottle, then fill it up with a granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. If desired, you may use a full ounce of a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, it is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly breaks the inflamed membrane that lines the throat and passages, stops the annoying tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Sore throat, bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and breathless asthma.

There is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, known for healing the inflamed throat. To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "Pine" and you will get directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pine Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

STREET SPREADS AS 1,000 HIT IN LAWRENCE

21,000 Are Now Jobless in Mill City as Result of Textile War
Lawrence, March 28.—More than one thousand mill operatives joined the ranks of the strikers today. This brought the total of those on strike or thrown out of work by the industrial war to more than 21,000 men and women.

More than 5,000 operatives are doing picket duty in front of the mills, and their number is growing steadily. Officials of the Pacific Mill at Lawrence said that the strike at that mill had not been heavy today.

Less than one-fourth of the 3,100 employed in these mills reported for work today and this number was considerably reduced later when the women left with their husbands.

A huge parade, in which 6,000 pickets lined the mill district in Lawrence, ending at the city hall, was joined by several hundred foreign workers who had hitherto refused to join the strike.

Police warned Lawrence, March 28.—Police officers are doing picket duty in front of the mills, and their number is growing steadily. Officials of the Pacific Mill at Lawrence said that the strike at that mill had not been heavy today.

Standing or walking—there is no escape

EVERYWHERE the same unyielding hardness underfoot. Just standing is a strain—every step is a jolt. Never was the need of a heel that gives real protection as great as this is today.

The price of O'Sullivan's Safety Cushion Heels to you is generally the same as the price of ordinary heels, in spite of the fact that they cost the repairman more.

The repairman has two reasons for accepting this smaller profit—first, because O'Sullivan's always make easier business for him; second, because the good will of these customers builds bigger business for him.

Ask for O'Sullivan's when you leave your shoes—see that they are attached.

RADIO BRINGS PEOPLE NEWS INTO HOMES

Ordinary Receiving Set and Code Knowledge Only Needed to Hear Foreign Messages

By H. F. HAYES
How would you like to be able to listen in on the important radio messages that pass from this country to England, France, Germany and other foreign nations?

How would you like to have a private tap on some of the starting and sensational communications that pass through the ether every day, and are known only to radio operators?

All that you need in order to catch these messages on the wire is an ordinary radiohouse receiving set properly installed and a knowledge of the Continental code. When radio operators have begun to pull and you wish to experience a new radio sensation, try tuning your instrument to some of the big wireless stations.

Learning the code is not such a strenuous task as you may believe. Two or three hours' close application to the task of memorizing the code and dashes should be enough to start you on your journey.

LIST OF STATIONS.
The best way of acquiring ability to read the messages as they come in is to begin by listening to those stations which send slowly, say from five to ten words a minute. Gradually, as you acquire facility, you will be able to take the faster stations, and before you know you will have a complete mastery of the code.

Here is a list of some of the bigger stations with most of the facts about their speed of sending, wavelength, call letters, etc.

Station WOL, Marion, Mass., sends five to ten words a minute. Wave length is 12.00 meters.
Station WJL, Rochester, N. J., sends 12.00, 12.50, 13.00, 13.50, 14.00, 14.50, 15.00, 15.50, 16.00, 16.50, 17.00, 17.50, 18.00, 18.50, 19.00, 19.50, 20.00, 20.50, 21.00, 21.50, 22.00, 22.50, 23.00, 23.50, 24.00, 24.50, 25.00, HEARS TALK BY RADIO WITHOUT RECEIVERS

THIS FUEL NEVER PEETERS OUT!
Think of past and you associate it with Ireland, but this photograph was taken in Northern Germany, where millions of tons of fuel are dug up annually. In many places the turf is cut by machinery.

'EARING WELL! Flord Hansen, a barber of Neillville, Wis., has startled scientists and medical men by detecting radio messages by means of the device attached to his ear. It does not transmit the message, but increases the sensitiveness of his ear. Tests have proved that he can hear messages for a considerable distance.

THE CIRCUS IS COMING! Hooney, Hooney! Miss Alela Kimmell, daughter of Commander and Mrs. Harry Kimmell, and Miss Mary Stitt, daughter of Surgeon-General and Mrs. Stitt, Washington debutantes, who will take part in the Society Circus to be staged by officers at Fort Meyer. The camera here caught them doing a "little practicing on the side."

BLOOD WILL TELL! Here is "Mulcher," ridden by Jockey Hunterman, whom 100,000 persons saw fight his way to victory in the Colfrenb handicaps at Tin Junes, Lower California. The horse is owned by G. R. Allen of New Orleans.

CUTE CUE WIELDER! Take his Cue at an Early Age! William Mosconi, although he's not yet eight years old, has established an enviable reputation for knocking the ivoryies about. He has just completed a tournament at the National Academy in Philadelphia, where his remarkable playing astounded the gallery. The child is a nephew of Charles Mosconi, the eccentric dancer.

SHALL YOU WEAR SHELLS? They are very smart, worn on hats as trimming. Paris wants the world to know. This chic little French model shows tutone ribbon plaited in shell shapes and sewed on a hat of rough shoddied wheat straw of sand color. The color of the tutone ribbon is old gold and navy blue black. Daff fingers can easily make these ribbons at home. Don't they make a stunning trimming?

A FIRST LADY OF ARKANSAS! That is, she is the first woman in the State to make a bid for election to Congress. Mrs. T. T. Cotnam of Little Rock, an ardent suffragist, has already opened her campaign for Democratic nomination.

BANK ON THIS! School children of Washington, D. C., are delighted with their new automatic saving bank and patronize it regularly. This one is in the Wallace School. The child drops a coin in the slot and receives a pretty stamp, and later a bank account is opened.

KEEPING UP WITH THE TIMES! You've got to hand it to Louis Hayden, an iron worker, of Florida, Ill., who has just completed this massive hand-carved clock. All parts of the clock are carved from solid wood, even to the gears and shafts. Took three years to make it.

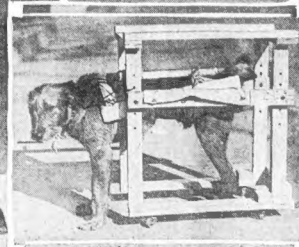

A MATTER OF GOOD CARRIAGE! This is believed by experts to be the first practical automobile combination truck and tractor yet made for army purposes. Traveling on wheels, it can make 20 miles an hour, and using the caterpillar tread it travel 15 miles an hour over almost any obstruction.

WOULD YOU CALL HER A QUEEN? The uptown section of Chicago thinks she is. Doris E. Faulker is one of 300 beauties entered in the annual bathing beauty contest of the city. Each district is represented by a certain number of contestants.

A GOOD MANICURE is something to Crow About! That's what "Jacob," the crow, says. He is one of the strange guests at Virginia Pope's bird hotel and hospital, New York city. "Jacob" is here getting his weekly manicure.

"SANDY" LED A DOG'S LIFE Until He Got This "Walker"! This intelligent Philadelphia Airedale had his back broken by an auto. Naturally an active dog, he refused to stay indoors, so this "walker" was rigged up and he now roams around while his back is healing.

THE CLUB JAMES, and Make It Snappy! An actual photograph of the tribal chief of the Tongavika country, Africa, dressed up in his "Sunday best." Observe his handbag and the orders across his chest (are they aspirators?).

Judge Landis Will Stay Five Years in Game

By Universal Service.

Fort Worth, Tex., March 24.—High Commissioner of Baseball, Judge Landis, expects to stay in baseball only five years at the most. He told this during his time as a public spirited citizen.

He made this announcement, speaking before the Chamber of Commerce here.

During his stay in the game, Judge Landis expects to see the game through to the point where it is no longer a game of chance, but a game of skill.

RED SOX CLOUT SHADE IS REAL WONDER OF WELTER DIVISION

By JACK CONWAY

Have added the fifteen year old son of the late, long, mentioned his career in the four round game in San Francisco at the age of sixteen. Dave is a brother to Billy and George Shade, both of whom are in their respective divisions.

Last Summer at Portland, Ore., the youngest and youngest member of the three fighting Shade family fought in four round draw with champion.

A little later Shade came out with intention of a fight, and he fought with the champion. He was not defeated with any much less than thirty years, when he arrived in New York, he had fought the best of the best, and he had won.
